

Useful links

Dyslexia or dyslexic traits

This website offers advice to parents in helping their child at home whether it be for homework, handwriting, spelling etc.

<http://www.bdadyslexia.org.uk/about-dyslexia/parents/helping-your-child-at-home.html>

Supporting homework

http://kidshealth.org/parent/positive/learning/help_gradeschooler_homework.html?tracking=90456_A#

and

<http://www.wikihow.com/Get-Your-Kids-to-Do-Their-Homework>

Children with ADHD

Hints and tips

<http://www.livingwithadhd.co.uk/parents-hints>

Autism

You'll find plenty of information for parents and carers on this website, including more about autism, Asperger syndrome, and diagnosis.

<http://www.autism.org.uk/living-with-autism/parents-relatives-and-carers/parents-and-carers.aspx>

MAGIC

Who are we and what does MAGIC do?
Medway Autism Group and Information Centre

(MAGIC) is an independent Medway-based charitable organisation providing a range of activities and events to support families living with autism, Asperger's and other learning difficulties.

<http://medway-magic.org/>

Speech and language

Discover a range of knowledge and strategies to help your child learn to communicate effectively and make themselves understood and express their feelings.

The following site may be useful:

<http://www.bbc.co.uk/cbeebies/grownups/article/speech-and-language-difficulties>

Communication difficulties

Good communication is the gateway to learning, friendships, academic achievement and success.

Find out more at -

<http://www.thecommunicationtrust.org.uk/resources/resources.aspx>

Eye Can Learn

Eye Exercises for Better Visual Health

These activities are offered as a fun way to help sharpen "learning-related" visual skills that are critical for success in school. If a child has deficits in visual information processing, these simple exercises alone are not sufficient to correct a problem. Please do not confuse these exercises with vision therapy.

<http://www.eyecanlearn.com>

Hypermobility

The HMSA website provides help and advice across the spectrum of problems seen in hypermobility syndromes

<http://hypermobility.org/help-advice/kids-teens/>

Cognitive Quick Tips: Visual Memory at Home and in the Classroom

We need visual memory skills for basic tasks such as recognising letters (differences between b, p, and d, for instance), reading, spelling, math and the list goes on.

(PUT A LINK HERE TO THE VISUALSEQUENTIALMEMORY DOC)

Touch Typing at home!

Dance Mat Typing, a fun way to learn touch typing

<http://www.bbc.co.uk/guides/z3c6tfr#z34thyc>

About The National Deaf Children's Society

The National Deaf Children's Society is the leading charity dedicated to creating a world without barriers for deaf children and young people.

http://www.ndcs.org.uk/about_us/index.html

Diabetes

Diabetes UK is the leading UK charity that cares for, connects with and campaigns on behalf of all people affected by diabetes.

<https://www.diabetes.org.uk>

Medway's Local Offer

Here you can find all the services you need to support children and young people with special educational needs and disabilities (known as 'SEND').
<http://www.medway.gov.uk/childrenandyoungpeople/medwayslocaloffer.asp> x

