Our Learning this Term-

This term we have been learning all about cold weather. First we had a visit from Jack Frost who was quite mischievous, freezing everything he came across! We had to think of ways to free the objects and came up with some really interesting and inventive ideas. We looked at cold places around the world—especially the North and South poles and looked at the animals who live there and how they adapt to the climate. Did you know that arctic foxes, who have white fur rather than red, sometimes eat lemmings?

We then read the story of The Gruffalo and used descriptive words to talk about the characters in the story and also read The Gruffalo's child. We have had the Christmas performance to rehearse for and we learnt seven songs off by heart, learnt a dance and learnt to play an instrument in time to the music. What a busy term!

We wish you all a merry Christmas and good wishes for 2017.

Hall of fame

Well done to all of our merit award winners this term!

Well done to...

Uniform

Every day we are asked to find clothing belonging to children in FS—we are happy to do this as we appreciate they are still learning to take care of their possessions, but please, please help by naming all belongings, Thank you !

Texas "That's the water and that's the snow."

"Two penguins here." Emilis

Tamarin explores a new way to use the hoops. "Watch me!"

Oliver "Look, we made a bat-mobil! It's a super fast car with gadgets on. We used the big tyres for wheels."

Henry "We've got four goals and you've got three."

Daisie Rose "I done a polar bear."

"Look, I got crazy hair!" Alfie

Jayke and Nancy working together to free the objects in the ice. Nancy "It's so slippery." Jayke "We have to get it out!"

Our Learning next Term

Next term our topic is: What ingredients make a great story ?

The children have really enjoyed the role play inspired by reading the Gruffalo and so we are going to focus on more great children's literature to develop our knowledge of how stories are structured and how we can create our own stories. We will look at the elements of stories—such as characters and the setting of story and how to bring the stories to life!
